

Frequently Asked Questions about RAD

Subsidy changes at Home Forward's Camelia Court, Eliot Square, Maple Mallory, Bel Park, and Winchell Court communities

What is RAD and what is Home Forward's plan for my building?

During the summer of 2015 Home Forward held a meeting at your building to explain that we were applying for approval from the federal government to change the way your apartment is funded. We have received approval under the Rental Assistance Demonstration (RAD) program. Currently, the type of housing assistance you receive includes a federal Public Housing subsidy which covers the majority of your rent and a small amount of maintenance and repair costs. Home Forward is changing the building to the RAD program to change the housing assistance you receive to a form of federal project-based Section 8 subsidy.

What does this mean to me?

This means that the type of housing assistance provided to you would change from Public Housing subsidy to project-based Section 8 subsidy. While we would love to have you stay in your current home, you will have greater choice in where you may choose to live in the future.

Why are these changes happening?

Over the past decade, federal funding for Public Housing has continually declined. The RAD program will allow Home Forward to count on a more stable funding source to operate and maintain our apartment buildings. In the future, this funding change could help us take care of your building so that it will last longer, and we will be able to continue to provide homes to those who need it most in the community. Home Forward is using these important policy guidelines:

- 1) Continue to serve very low-income populations in these communities.
- 2) Maintain ownership or control of the properties.
- 3) Improve the physical and financial condition of the properties.
- 4) Partner to optimize public and private resources on behalf of the properties and our residents.

Will management change at my building?

No, Home Forward plans no property management changes due to this conversion.

When will this happen?

We will begin contacting you with appointments later this year. You will have to attend a briefing meeting, complete some paperwork, and sign a new lease. Home Forward will also be required to inspect your home during this process even if you have already had your yearly inspection.

Could a Housing Choice Voucher allow me to move in the future?

Yes. The RAD program emphasizes choice for residents with what is called the “choice-mobility option.” When we met with you in the summer of 2015 we had not decided what the rules would be for you to receive a voucher, but we have that information now.

- Housing Choice Vouchers will be available for people who live in the building when it is converted to RAD and to people who move into the building after conversion.
- You must wait 12 months after the building is converted to RAD before you can request a voucher. After conversion new people who move in will have to wait 12 months before they can request a voucher.
- Once the 12 month waiting period has passed, residents living in RAD buildings have first priority and will be eligible for the first available vouchers. Vouchers will be issued in the order they are requested.
- If you request a voucher but do not end up using it, you may request another voucher 12 months after your last voucher expired.

How does a Housing Choice Voucher work?

The voucher allows you to search the private market for a home with Home Forward paying a portion of your rent directly to your landlord. After you find a home and pass the landlord’s screening process Home Forward will inspect the unit to make sure it meets basic health and safety requirements and to make sure the landlord is charging a reasonable amount of rent. Once the inspection and rent amounts are approved by Home Forward you sign a lease with the landlord and Home Forward signs a contract with the landlord. You maintain your own relationship with the landlord for paying your portion of the rent, requesting maintenance, etc.

Are there any drawbacks to taking a Housing Choice Voucher?

It depends on your situation, and you get to decide if it’s a good fit for you. Some people prefer the flexibility to move where and when they want to, but some people prefer the stability of living in Home Forward’s buildings. Some people have a low credit score or something on their criminal history that can make it hard to find a landlord that will accept them because private landlords are not required to have an appeal process. Home Forward does not help pay security deposits and fees which can be expensive in the private market.

What if I request a voucher but I can’t find a place to rent before it expires?

You are welcome to continue living in your current home. You may request a new voucher 12 months after your last voucher expired.

Could I use a Housing Choice Voucher to move to a different county or state?

Yes. You must be in good standing with Home Forward to request to port out your voucher to a different place.
